Umbrella Award - 2019

Call for Nominations

Preamble and description

After successful launch of the Umbrella Award by the RWTH Aachen University, the Technion - Israel Institute of Technology -, and Forschungszentrum Jülich GmbH, we are very pleased to announce a call for nominees for the 2019 Umbrella Award focusing on Energy Conversion and Energy Storage.

The award, partly funded by the Deutsche Technion Gesellschaft e.V., amounts to 5000 Euros for one awardee per institution. The award includes funds for an extended exchange visit to Aachen/Jülich in case the awardee is from the Technion, or vice versa.

Scope

The call is open to young faculty members, those who have received their doctoral degree within and up to six years.

Joint Call and Deadline

This call is being published jointly by all three institutions. Nominations will be collated by the Umbrella offices in each institution and reviewed by a committee formed by two representatives from each institute. One awardee per institution will be chosen who will be expected to deliver an award lecture during the exchange visit, and during the Umbrella symposium.

Nominations may be submitted latest by December 17, 2018 by noontime (local time).

Contents of Nomination

Nominations should include a short description of scientific merits of the nominee, a short CV, and a list of publications. Nominations must be approved and submitted by the corresponding faculty dean. Self-nominations will not be accepted.
